Church History

By 1918 the Whiting congregation had formed itself as a community of worshipers, and on the nineteenth of March, 1919, the congregation was officially established, and purchased the German Lutheran Church building. In 1934, major modifications and renovations were begun on the Whiting church building, and these were completed in 1935. Several of the ministers had Slovak language abilities, and served the Slovak-speaking members in their own language. Between 1958 and 1981 Rev. Dr. Arthur A. Ludwig, pastor of the neighboring Indiana Harbor congregation, provided these services for numerous special occasions. The congregation faced a very difficult decision in 1999: it was faced with the prospect that its building and land would be bought, perhaps against the wishes of the congregation, for an economic "urban renewal" project, as it is situated on a major thoroughfare. After several meetings and much deliberation and prayer, the membership vowed to continue at another house of worship should this occur. Over the years the Hungarian Reformed Church of Whiting has found many ways to be of service to the Lord, trying to accomplish His work as it has best understood His calling. As His people, this congregation will continue to seek the guidance of the Lord, looking for opportunities of service in whatever way the congregation is called.
